City Fog

Thousands of pinpoints of color are revealed within City Fog's gray scape, like the view of a metropolis from on high. This unique effect is produced by the artist's layering technique using remnants from 15 reclaimed wool sweaters of varying hues. The pieces are then felted together using an industrial felting machine, with the fibers becoming integrated and interwoven throughout. Like all Wallworks, City Fog is as intriguing from afar as it is close up.

ABOUT WALLWORKS

Wallworks, in their most essential guise, are large-scale, one-of-a-kind wall hangings felted from reclaimed EILEEN FISHER clothing. The variety of materials, colors, and hand-arranged compositions renders each piece wholly unique. The size and textural quality of Wallworks make for a stunning addition to private and public spaces alike, providing visual impact and a modicum of acoustic dampening. Wallworks were first displayed in the Waste No More exhibit at Salone Internazionale del Mobile di Milano, the prestigious furniture and design trade fair.
